

Nina is a native New Yorker and graduate of the acclaimed N.Y.C. High School of Performing Arts and the William Esper Studio. As a professional dancer, Nina has toured all over the U.S. with various music artists, and has appeared in many of their music videos and numerous t.v. performances. She even went on to release her own dance single, "Sweetheart", on the After Dark/Sleeping Bag Record label in the early 90's. After transitioning more into acting, Nina co-founded The Hyperion Theatre Company, which produced several plays, including Homecoming, which was later turned into a feature film, released by RLJ/Image Entertainment. Nina appeared in the role of Abby Long, in both the stage production and the film. Her extensive theatre background also includes performances of A Midsummer Night's Dream; Hamlet; and Macbeth at Teatro Franco Parenti in Milan, Italy; Teatro Patologico in Rome, Italy; and Teatro Circulo in New York. Nina also appears in the upcoming feature film, Sylvie's Love, starring Tessa Thompson, in the role of her assistant, Evelyn. She also went back to her dance roots, pulling double duty as choreographer for the film, which includes featured numbers with Eva Longoria, Jemima Kirke, and Tessa Thompson, to name a few. The film premiered at Sundance 2020 to rave reviews and will be released by Amazon Studios. Nina currently splits her time between Los Angeles and New York.
